

Executive Biography

Moshtaq Ahmed

Nybsys is led by its founder and CEO Moshtaq Ahmed, a Harvard graduate with over two decades of experience in delivering many large-scale systems across Asia and Africa. His multitude of innovative projects have made positive changes to the lives of many people on the planet. This includes country transformative projects mainly in Asia and Africa which helped to increase government revenue manifold, while improving efficiency and productivity of operations.

In addition, his work has brought the power of technology to the doorsteps of the large numbers of people in several countries.

He is currently focused on growing the US operations of Nybsys. This includes hardware-software product strategies across networking, communications, IoT, and security portfolios, with global go-to-market impact.